

Figure 1: Note bilateral hazy lung fields along with ground glass appearance and air bronchograms all findings that are associated with acute Respiratory Distress Syndrome. The tip of the ETT is just above the carina and the lungs are expanded to 8 ribs.

